THE annual exhibition of the Ontario Society of Artists is now in progress at their Toronto gallery. The art work in the exhibition is of a higher quality than ever before. Many of the works are excellent, and a high level of excellence is maintained throughout the exhibition. The works of some of the older artists, such as W. K. Hodsoll and W. G. Black, are particularly noted for their skill and versatility.

There are several works by W. J. O. Herd, the well-known Canadian artist, who has been a regular exhibitor at the O.S.A. for many years. His works are always well-received and his paintings are always popular. His landscapes, in particular, are highly praised for their beauty and their skillful execution.

Another artist whose works are always in demand is E. J. H. Burrows, whose landscapes and seascapes are among the best in Canada. His works are always well-received and he is highly regarded for his skill and his talent.

The works of some of the younger artists are also noteworthy. J. E. H. MacDonald, for example, is a promising young artist whose works are always received with great interest. His landscapes, in particular, are highly praised for their beauty and their skillful execution.

In short, the exhibition is a fine one and it is highly recommended to all lovers of art. The works are well-received and the high level of excellence is maintained throughout the exhibition. It is a pleasure to see such a fine exhibition.
